Acknowledgement of Country

UNSW Arts, Design and Architecture Kensington and Paddington campuses are built on Aboriginal Lands. We pay our respects to the Bidjigal and Gadigal peoples who are the Custodians of these lands. We acknowledge the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, the First Australians, whose lands, winds and waters we all now share, and pay respect to their unique values, and their continuing and enduring cultures which deepen and enrich the life of our nation and communities.

Summary of the Course

Personalised English Language Enhancement (PELE) is a self-directed learning course designed to help you enhance your communication skills in English. In this course, you will be guided to develop a personal project that meets your needs and implement it in a warm and safe environment being supported not only by the teachers but also by peer mentors. In addition, you will learn a number of important skills needed for life-long learning, including reflective thinking and time management.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. Analyse and identify personal language needs
2. Apply tools and resources for language enhancement
3. Design and carry out a personal project based on the analysis of personal language needs
4. Reflect on and assess their own progress to sustain personal and professional language enhancement
5. Communicate critical personal learning outcomes with peers

Teaching Strategies

HUMS1005 helps students to take responsibility for enhancing their English language skills by helping them identify and address their own individual needs. This is because students at this advanced stage of English language acquisition have different needs, strengths and weaknesses. Firmly based on socio-cultural learning theory that argues that learners construct their own learning through meaningful interactions (c.f. Vygotsky 1986), this self-directed autonomous course helps students to enhance their English skills by firstly analysing their own needs; secondly developing personal projects; thirdly implementing them; fourthly evaluating their own progress; and finally reflecting on their own learning. Throughout the course, students will be guided with relevant theory, practical suggestions and useful resources in both lecture and tutorial sessions.

Assessment

Any referencing system such as APA is acceptable in this course as long as it is consistently applied: check UNSW Support for Referencing Assignments: <https://student.unsw.edu.au/referencing>
Students can access previous student samples on OpenLearning.

Assessment task	Weight	Due Date	Course Learning Outcomes Assessed
1. Personal project design (PPD)	30%	11/03/2022 11:00 PM	1, 2, 3
2. Project logbook and journal	20%	08/04/2022 11:00 PM	2, 4
3. Oral presentation	20%	Not Applicable	5
4. Reflective essay	30%	25/11/2021 11:00 PM	2, 4

Assessment 1: Personal project design (PPD)

Assessment length: 1500 words

Due date: 11/03/2022 11:00 PM

Students design their own personal project to address their own English language needs. They are required to specify their personal project goal, background, method, resources, progress measurement, timeline, schedule and anticipated outcomes. They need to develop their PPD based on relevant literature of the field concerned. The word limit is 1500.

Students receive written feedback based on rubrics.

This assignment is submitted through Turnitin and students can see Turnitin similarity reports.

Assessment 2: Project logbook and journal

Due date: 08/04/2022 11:00 PM

Students record their learning activities and keep reflective journal on a regular basis as planned in their PPD. They are required to spend 30 hours or more for their personal project.

Students receive written feedback based on rubrics.

This is not a Turnitin assignment

Additional details

The logbook and journal does not need submission; rather, it will be assessed directly on the e-portfolio that the student creates and shares with the teachers.

Assessment 3: Oral presentation

Students present their learning highlights from their personal project for about 10 minutes to inspire peers to continue to enhance their language skills even after completing the course. They are required to submit an abstract (about 150 words) about what they are going to present a couple of weeks before the presentation day. Students receive written feedback from tutor on abstracts (10%) and from peers on presentation (10%) based on rubrics.

This assignment is submitted through Turnitin and students can see Turnitin similarity reports.

Additional details

The abstract is due on Turnitin by 9 am Monday 11 April (Week 9). The oral presentation is peer-assessed and due in the class of Week 10; students who miss the final class will miss this 10% assessment.

Assessment 4: Reflective essay

Assessment length: 2000 words

Due date: 25/11/2021 11:00 PM

Students analytically and critically reflect on their learning experience of implementing their own personal project and put achievable actions in a plan for the next learning stage. The word limit is 2000.

Students receive written feedback based on rubrics. This is the final assessment for attendance purposes.

This assignment is submitted through Turnitin and students can see Turnitin similarity reports.

Attendance Requirements

Students are strongly encouraged to attend all classes and review lecture recordings.

Submission of Assessment Tasks

Turnitin Submission

If you encounter a problem when attempting to submit your assignment through Turnitin, please telephone External Support on 9385 3331 or email them on externalteltsupport@unsw.edu.au . Support hours are 8:00am – 10:00pm on weekdays and 9:00am – 5:00pm on weekends (365 days a year). If you are unable to submit your assignment due to a fault with Turnitin you may apply for an extension, but you must retain your ticket number from External Support (along with any other relevant documents) to include as evidence to support your extension application. If you email External Support you will automatically receive a ticket number, but if you telephone you will need to specifically ask for one. Turnitin also provides updates on their system status on Twitter.

Generally, assessment tasks must be submitted electronically via either Turnitin or a Moodle assignment. In instances where this is not possible, it will be stated on your course's Moodle site with alternative submission details.

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

Copying: Using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This includes copying materials, ideas or concepts from a book, article, report or other written document, presentation, composition, artwork, design, drawing, circuitry, computer program or software, website, internet, other electronic resource, or another person's assignment without appropriate acknowledgement.

Inappropriate paraphrasing: Changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original information, structure and/or progression of ideas of the original without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another's ideas or words without credit and to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without appropriate referencing.

Collusion: Working with others but passing off the work as a person's individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student for the purpose of them plagiarising, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person's academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person's work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.

Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): Submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Correct referencing practices

The UNSW Academic Skills support offers resources and individual consultations. Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study. One of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

UNSW Library has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW but it can also be a great refresher during your study. Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- better manage your time
- understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
- be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of UNSW ICT Resources Policy
- be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
- locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library
