Disability Policy in China

Child and family experiences

Xiaoyuan Shang, Beijing Normal University, China and University of New South Wales, Australia and Karen R. Fisher, University of New South Wales, Australia

Series: Routledge Contemporary China Series

This book examines family experiences of child disability policy in China. It applies a child disability rights framework in four domains – care and protection, economic security, development and participation – to investigate families' experiences of the effectiveness of support to fulfil their children's rights. Bringing together a wealth of statistical and qualitative data on children with disabilities, it will be of huge interest to students and scholars of Chinese social welfare, social policy, society and children's studies, as well as policy-makers and NGOs alike.
