Competition Details

The Competition

1. Competition name Global Sustainable Development Congress (GSDC) Student Delegate Competition
2. Prize The opportunity to attend the GSDC in Bangkok from 10 to 13 June 2024.
UNSW will arrange and pay for the cost of the following in connection with the GSDC:
 - (a) return flights from Sydney to Bangkok departing on 9 June and returning on 14 June;
 - (b) accommodation for the dates specified in paragraph (a);
 - (c) airport to accommodation transfers in Bangkok (both ways);
 - (d) standard student travel insurance coverage under UNSW's Travel Insurance policy; and
 - (e) select meals (daily breakfast will be included with the accommodation and the GSDC will provide catered lunch).
 - (f) Ticket to Congress
3. Conditions of Claiming Prize

Mandatory attendance
Each Winner will be required to attend both:

 - (a) the roundtable titled 'Water, Energy, and Food Goals post 2030: Carbon can be the Currency to a Just World'; or
 - (b) the workshop titled 'The Last Urban Migration and a post-SDG agenda for Cities: What do we measure and for whom?', as participants in discussing emergent questions on sustainable development and metrics that matter for sustainable development.

Optional attendance
Each Winner may attend other GSDC sessions in addition to their mandatory event. The draft program is available at: <https://www.timeshighered-events.com/gsd-congress-2024/agenda>.

Compliance with UNSW Policies and Procedures
For the avoidance of any doubt, Winners will remain bound by UNSW policies and procedures for the duration of their travel overseas, including attendance at the GSDC, in particular the Code of Conduct available at <https://www.unsw.edu.au/governance/policy/browse-a-z>.

Post GSDC
Winners will be expected to submit a reflection statement (format to be agreed following event) on their experience of the Congress and the specific UNSW event they are selected to attend and take part in a video interview, to be hosted on the Sustainability Matters site and used in UNSW student communication channels, describing their experience at the GSDC. Students will be expected to contribute to a UNSW event report, capturing background information, proceedings, ideas, perspectives, themes that emerge during the workshop or roundtable. Student contribution may include request for comments and specific content. The due date for these contributions will be agreed with the student with consideration of their existing study and assessment commitments.

4. Important dates	GSDC Start Date	10 June 2024
	GSDC End Date	13 June 2024
	Travel Start Date	9 June 2024
	Travel End Date	14 June 2024

About the GSDC

5. What is the GSDC? The Times Higher Education Global Sustainable Development Congress was initiated in 2023 as a new platform designed to enable university leaders and their communities to forge stronger partnerships with governments, the private sector and civil society.
- As part of the GSDC, UNSW and its partners from across the Asia Pacific region will be hosting a roundtable and workshop that draws upon their distinctive capabilities and expertise to identify new ways of translating technical solutions to societal impact.
6. Why is UNSW selecting student delegates? Students play a fundamental role in the contribution that UNSW makes to the community, the region, and the world. As the generation that will be most impacted by the decisions made at the highest levels of government and business today, UNSW considers that students need to be at the table as it works to develop solutions with its partners.

| Competition Opening Date | 25 March 2024 |
| Competition Closing Date | 7 April 2024 |
9. Maximum Number of Entries One entry per Eligible Entrant, which may include a response for one or both events. Each entry is associated with the Workshop or Roundtable. Entrants can apply one time to the Workshop only or entrants can apply one time to the Roundtable only or entrants can apply to both the Workshop and the Roundtable, in which case they submit two entries. -

How the Winners will be selected

10. Winners UNSW will select two (2) Winners.
11. Selection of Winners The selection of the two (2) Winners will be a two-part process.

Assessment of application forms

First, the UNSW GSDC operations team will review the application forms received and shortlist up to five (5) candidates each for the roundtable and workshop (up to ten total) based on their assessment of, among other things:

- (a) the quality of the candidate's responses;
- (b) relevance of the candidate's ideas and proposed contributions to the candidate's chosen event; and

- (c) the potential impact of attendance for the candidate (i.e. alignment with the candidate's chosen career).
- (d) No use of AI in the response, as reported by an UNSW AI detection tool.

Interview of shortlisted candidates

The shortlisted candidates will be asked to attend an interview with the UNSW selection committee (comprising the Director of the Institute for Global Development; the SDG Steering Committee Chair; and either the GSDC roundtable lead or the GSDC workshop lead).

Candidates will be assessed on their:

- (e) communication skills;
- (f) understanding of the GSDC, in particular their chosen event and the key issues to be discussed at the GSDC; and
- (g) ability to articulate their position and views on key issues.

The UNSW selection committee will select two (2) students for final endorsement by the Dean and Head of School, and those students will then be announced as the Winners of the GSDC Student Delegate Competition.

Notification of the Winners

12.	Winner notification	Winners will be contacted via email by a member of the UNSW GSDC operations team by Friday 26 April 2024.
13.	Latest Date to Claim Prize	Winners must respond via email to claim their prize within 5 days of receiving email notification of their winning the prize. If a Winner does not respond by this date, they will be taken to have forfeited their prize.
