

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

UNSW Institute for Climate Risk & Response Early Career Researchers Workshop

The UNSW Institute for Climate Risk & Response (ICRR) is thrilled to announce our upcoming Early Career Researchers Workshop. We invite PhD students and early career researchers to submit their abstracts for consideration. This workshop is dedicated to fostering collaboration and innovation and is open to presenters working in any discipline on projects related to climate change.

WORKSHOP HIGHLIGHTS

Interdisciplinary Focus: We welcome submissions from diverse fields. This means that you can hear from and share your research approach with colleagues from areas including but not limited to:

- Physical Climate Science
- Psychology and Behavioural Sciences
- Economics and Finance
- Risk and Actuarial Studies
- Law and Justice

Gain insights from experts in academia and industry who specialise in climate-related topics at our panel discussion on career progression.

Event registration is free and will open in August. Catering will be provided for all participants. For more information, please contact us at icrr@unsw.edu.au

SUBMISSION INFO

- 5-Minute Research Pitch: Concise presentations highlighting key findings and ideas
- 15-Minute General Presentation (including Q&A): More detailed discussions of research projects and their implications
- Abstract Length: 100 Words
- Submission Deadline: Monday 12th August 2024 12pm AEST
- Submit here now: ECR Workshop Submissions

PRIZES

Present your research at the UNSW ICRR Early Career Workshop for a chance to win cash prizes of up to $600

This is a unique opportunity to present your research, engage with a diverse audience, and contribute to the global dialogue on climate change. We look forward to your participation and to the vibrant discussions that will shape our understanding and response to climate risk.

- 📅 Wednesday, 16th October, 2024
- 📍 Columbo Theatre B - UNSW Sydney 2052
- 🎟️ Free

