LANGUAGE NOTES: Korean uses the verb 하- (do), not 놀- (play), in talking about playing various sports and musical instruments. However, in the case of sports that require, generally speaking, the hitting of a ball, or in the case of playing musical instruments with fingers, Korean uses the verb 치- (strike, hit). Thus, 골프 (golf), 테니스 (tennis), 탁구 (ping pong), 배드민턴 (badminton), 기타 (guitar), 피아노 (piano), etc are all used with the verb 치-, ie "…을/를 쳐요". Also, Baduk is the Korean version of the board game Go, and Janggi Korean chess. Both of the games involve placing something on the board: black and white stones in Baduk and wooden pieces in case of Janggi, and thus the verb used is 두- (place, put).

3 Do you know how to ...?

When asking about activities requiring knowledge or training, we can say:

... VST - (으)ㄹ 줄 알아요?

EXAMPLES

| 야구 할 줄 알아요? | Do you know how to play baseball? |
|--------------|------------------------------------|
| 피아노 칠 줄 알아요? | Do you know how to play the piano? |
| 한자를 쓸 줄 아세요? | Can you (resp) write Chinese? |
| 춤 출 줄 아세요? | Can you (resp) dance? |

Yes, I know how to ...

To answer in the positive we can say

네, ... VST (으)ㄹ 줄 알아요.

EXAMPLES

| 네, 야구 할 줄 알아요. | Yes, I know how to play baseball. |
|----------------|-----------------------------------|
| 피아노 칠 줄 알아요. | I know how to play the piano. |
| 한자를 쓸 줄 알아요. | I can write Chinese. |
| 네, 춤 출 줄 알아요. | Yes, I can dance. |

I don't know how to ...

And in the negative

아니요, ... VST - (으)ㄹ 줄 몰라요.

EXAMPLES

| 아니요, 야구 할 줄 몰라요. | No, I don't know how to play baseball. |
|------------------|--|
| 피아노 칠 줄 몰라요. | I don't know how to play the piano. |
| 한자를 쓸 줄 몰라요. | I can't write Chinese. |
| 아니요, 춤 출 줄 몰라요. | No, I can't dance. |

Other options ...

| … (을/를) 잘 하- | be good at/do something well | ··· (을/를) 잘 못 하- | be not really good at ··· |
|---------------|------------------------------|------------------|---------------------------|
| … (을/를) 조금 하- | do something a little bit | … (을/를) 못 하- | be no good at all at ··· |

In responding to '… VST-(으) ㄹ 줄 알아요?' questions, you may be tempted to say: "네, 조금 해요 (intended to mean 'Yes, a little')". However, unlike English, this in fact sounds a bit haughty, possibly because of its affirmative aspect, ie, "네, 해요". A more standard, modest response would be: "잘 못 해요 (Lit. I can't do it very well)". Here, 잘 is the key - without it you simply mean that you can't.

A more definite declaimer of any ability in the field under discussion is "잘 해요 (Lit. (He/She) does it well)". Of course, we can't say this about ourselves without sounding boastful, but we can use it to describe other people's abilities.

| | | • | |

Language Notes: The vowel __ in 쓰- (write) drops out when attaching the -어요 ending, and thus 편지를 써요. Also, the \Box in 듣- (listen to) changes to \Box when attaching -어요, and thus 음악을 들어요.

5 The Auxiliary Verb: VST - 아/어/...해 보-

The verb 보- (see) can be attached to another verb, adding some abstract sense of 'trial', 'experience', etc. In effect, the attached 보- indicates that we perform an action (as indicated by the preceding verb) while we are non-committal about the outcome. We've already met such an example; 먹어 보- as in "김치를 먹어 봤어요? (Have you tried the Gimchi?)" which literally means 'Did you eat Gimchi and see (what it was like)?' Look at the contrast between the following pairs.

| 그 책을 읽었어요? | Did you read that book? |
|---------------|-------------------------------------|
| 그 책을 읽어 봤어요? | Did you have a look at that book? |
| 그 노래를 들었어요? | Did you listen to that song? |

| 파도타기 했어요? | Did you surf? |
| 파도타기 해 봤어요? | Did you have a go at surfing? |

6 The Suffix -기 (= ing) in 파도타기

There are a few ways of changing a verb into a noun in Korean, and the suffix -기, as in 卧도타기, is one of them. It has a similar effect of attaching -ing in English.

| 파도타기는 재미 있지만 좀 힘들어요. | Surfing is fun but is a little bit difficult. |
|----------------------|---|
| 책읽기를 좋아해요? | Do you like reading books? |
| 한국어 공부하기가 어때요? | What's it like to study Korean? |
| 음식점에서 식사하기를 좋아해요. | I like having a meal at a restaurant. |

Yes, I have. / No, I haven't.

To answer, we simply say:

네, 있어요. / 아니요, 없어요.

9 Would you like to ...?

A common way of suggesting things to other people is to say:

VST - (으)실래요?

EXAMPLES

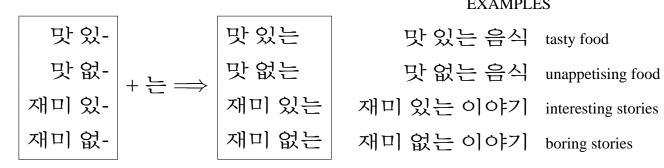

| 오늘 저녁, 파티에 가실래요? | Would you like to go to a party tonight? |
|------------------|---|
| 아르바이트 해 보실래요? | How would you like a part-time job? |
| 그럼, 다음 주에 오실래요? | Well then - would you like to come again next week? |
| 콜라 좀 주실래요? | May I have a cola? (Lit. Would you like to give me a cola?) |

10 Using Description verbs: Modifying Nouns

We've learnt how to say in Korean, eg, It's delicious, It's hot, It's difficult, It's good, etc. We choose an appropriate description verb and attach endings, as we do with action verbs. We thus say 맛 있어요, 더워요, 어려워요, 좋아요, etc.

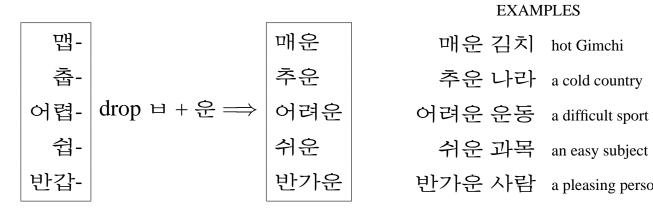

Let us learn how to use description verbs to modify nouns, as in a hot day, a difficult matter, and so on. There are three rules to remember:

1. With description verb stems ending in 있- and 없-, we add 는.

EXAMPLES

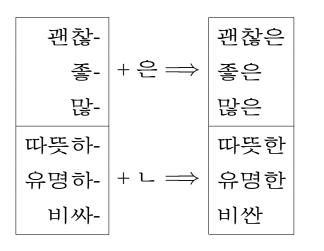

2. With description verb stems that end in \exists , \exists changes to \diamondsuit , to which we add \sqsubseteq .

EXAMPLES

반가운 사람 a pleasing person

3. With all other description verb stems (with minor exceptions) we add ∟ after vowels, ⊖ after consonants.

EXAMPLES

괜찮은 시험 an OK exam 좋은 음식 good food 많은 사람 many people 따뜻한 국 warm soup 유명한 학교 a famous school 비싼술 an expensive liquor
